

MARTÍN BUSTAMANTE

Martin Bustamante is an illustrator and painter from Argentina. At the age of 3 he was able to draw a horse "starting by the tail", as his mother always says. As a teenager, he found in movies like Star Wars and books from Prince Valiant to Harold Foster, new and fascinating worlds full of colors, shapes and atmospheres that became his inspiration for drawing. At that moment, drawing and painting are his passions. He started working as a professional illustrator and has worked for several editorials and magazines, from Argentina to the USA to Europe
